

THE RELATIONSHIP ORACLE

Relationship Forecast Report

January 1st 2013 - January 1st 2014

for

Angelina Jolie

and

Brad Pitt

INTRODUCTION

Your 1 year lovers' forecast is a fully personalized, predictive astrology report based on the composite chart of your relationship. This is a chart made up of the midpoints of the planets and angles in your individual birth charts, which symbolizes your relationship as a unique, living entity.

By tracking the most significant astrological transits to your composite chart, month by month through a 12 month period, the Relationship Oracle reveals how your relationship is likely to develop and change as it moves forward in time.

Over the upcoming year you will have many opportunities as a couple to 'grow' your relationship and encourage it to blossom and flourish. There will also be some challenging periods when your love is likely to be tried and tested. Noting the exact nature and timing of the transiting influences, and working with them rather than against them, will help you to successfully negotiate these various ups and downs.

The transiting planets considered in this report are Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto. The selected transiting angles or 'aspects' are the conjunction, square, trine and opposition, widely recognized as being the most important. Please note that if either person's birth time is unknown, transits to the composite Moon are not included.

Months containing a large number of transits to your composite chart are likely to be 'busy' in terms of what is going on between you, while those with only a few entries will tend to be quieter times. If no transits whatsoever occur in a particular month, that month will be omitted from your report.

In reading your report, pay close attention to any similar themes occurring within the same time frame as they are likely to be particularly important. When identical texts are repeated, this is due to the retrograde movement of a planet which intensifies its action. Conversely, where you have simultaneous influences of an opposing or contradictory nature, these will tend to weaken one another's effects.

December 2012

Uranus Conjunct Mercury

Peakdate: Dec 14th 2012; Period of Influence: Nov 7th 2012 - Jan 17th 2013

AGREEING TO DISAGREE

This is a time of fresh ideas and new learning for the two of you. Topics that once seemed too kooky or unconventional to share with each other suddenly become a lot more approachable and add a new intellectual dimension to your relationship. Don't expect to agree with each other on everything, however - indeed, this is a time when you may have to 'agree to disagree'. Because you're both being very honest and outspoken now, arguments are more likely. But instead of allowing your intellectual differences to come between you, see them as a source of exciting discoveries that can radically alter how each of you think.

Mars Trine Uranus

Peakdate: Dec 31st 2012; Period of Influence: Dec 31st 2012 - Jan 1st 2013

WALKING ON THE WILD SIDE

This is an exhilarating, high-energy time when you want to do something completely different that injects fresh life into your relationship. You bring out the wild, dare-devilish side in each other now, encouraging each other to experiment with thrilling new activities you can try out as a couple - maybe especially in your sex life. If your relationship has lost some of its original excitement, you'll be looking to recapture it by making some spontaneous changes that allow you to break out of routines and staleness. Allowing each other the freedom to be your true selves while remaining a united couple comes more easily to you now.

Venus Square Sun

CHILLING OUT TOGETHER

Feelings of mutual affection, coupled with a strong desire to kick back and have fun, make this an excellent time for just chilling out together and basking in the warmth of your love. Why not take a short break from your day to day chores and resolve to do something a bit self-indulgent that gives the two of you pleasure? No need to fret if you each want something different. It gives you the chance to explore your mutual tastes and preferences, find out a little more about each other, and practice the art of give and take. Learning to compromise is what all relationships - this one included - is ultimately about.

January 2013

Venus Square Pluto

Peakdate: Jan 5th 2013; Period of Influence: Jan 4th 2013 - Jan 6th 2013

DESTRUCTIVE PASSIONS

Dynamics in your relationship that have been operating beneath the surface begin to emerge, as feelings are intensified and brought up to the surface. Unspoken insecurities, maybe originating from painful past love experiences, may make themselves felt in the form of unreasonable jealousies and attempts at mutual control. Your challenge as a couple is to confront and overcome these destructive passions and behaviors which have the potential to seriously damage your relationship. Start dealing with them now, before they develop into major power struggles, to avoid bigger problems in the future.

Venus Trine Saturn

PRACTICAL CONSIDERATIONS

You're likely to be focusing on the practical aspects of your relationship now, and the responsibilities and commitments that being together inevitably involve. An opportunity may crop up to demonstrate loyalty, dependability, and that you want to be there for one another in foul weather as well as fair. Although it may not be a particularly romantic or exciting time for the two of you, you're learning a lot about the importance of love in action. By supporting each other in tangible, down-to-earth ways, you're building the kind of trust that can't easily be broken and at a deep level you're growing closer, day by day.

Venus Square Mercury

KEEPING THE PEACE

However irritated you may be feeling with each other, rather than risk an argument, the tendency is to sweep your grievances under the carpet today. Certainly, this isn't a good time to thrash out any major issues in your relationship since your fear of saying the 'wrong thing' and upsetting each other is likely to interfere with an open and honest exchange of views. Instead, you may find yourselves expressing your mutual annoyances in the form of jokes, innuendos and teasing comments. Although sweetened with humor, these may actually contain quite a bit of truth about your true feelings when you read between the lines!

Venus Square Uranus

RESTLESS YEARNINGS

A restless mood and a yearning for something different and more exciting comes over the two of you now. If your relationship has gotten into a bit of a rut, it could be that subconsciously you will be trying to re-invigorate it in any way you can, maybe by one or both of you demanding more freedom. You could feel the need to put a little more space between you by allowing each other more 'me' time. One or the other of you might even indulge in a brief flirtation with somebody else. Whatever happens don't read too much into it. Provided your romance is solidly based, this period of short-lived instability can't hurt it.

Venus Square Jupiter

MAKING WHOOPEE

This could be one of those days when the urge to have fun together is so powerful, you're liable to throw caution to the wind. What's happening now is that you're tending to bring out in each other any tendencies toward excessive spending, partying, or consuming without due consideration of the likely consequences. The end result is that when you're together you're inclined to foolishly overdo things or splurge on something you can't really afford. Too much 'making whoopee' at the expense of your much needed resources is a sure recipe for later feelings of regret and, quite likely, mutual blame.

Mars Conjunct Mars

WORKING TOGETHER

The ways in which you work together and combine your energies to accomplish shared goals, as well as the extent to which you both feel free to express yourselves as individuals within the context of your relationship, are highlighted just now. If you basically have a positive effect on one another and the potential to cooperate well as a team, you will be infused with lots of energy and drive to jointly achieve your ambitions. However, if your separate ego identities are strong and your relationship has an undertone of rivalry, expect this to heat up now with an increased likelihood of arguments and competitive sparring.

Mars Trine Venus

EROTIC LOVE

This is a wonderful period for lovemaking! The spirit of Eros is alive and flowing between you, causing you to feel very warm, sexy and affectionate towards one another. In fact, the likelihood is that you will find each other irresistible and if you haven't yet slept together, this is the perfect time to do so. If you're already lovers, be sure to use this happy influence to explore and deepen your physical relationship. Social gatherings and parties will be delightful too, if you attend together. The strong sexual energy uniting you now gives a big boost to your charisma as a couple and to any joint activities you undertake at this time.

Venus Trine Pluto

INTENSIFYING YOUR LOVE

Your love for each other takes on a new depth and intensity. There is a feeling of magical or 'fated' attraction between you, giving you the sense you were destined to be together and adding a transcendental dimension to your relationship that lifts it above the mundane. Because you're loving each other body and soul now, your sex life is especially powerful and potentially transformative. If you are willing to open fully to each other and share your insecurities alongside of your desires and longings, mutual healing can take place through deep contact and mutual acceptance. Superficiality is not on the agenda now.

Venus Square Venus

INCOMPATIBLE DESIRES

Disagreements arise now over personal tastes and styles, what each of you considers desirable or beautiful, and how you show love or want to be loved. This is unlikely to be a direct confrontation, but more of a realization that you need to be doing things somewhat differently in order to please one another and satisfy each other's desires. Be careful, however, that in the spirit of harmony, you don't make too many personal concessions you're unable to sustain. Going against your true inclinations won't work in the long run. Better to accept and respect the contrasts between you than try to be someone you're not.

Mars Square Neptune

A TEMPORARY WOBBLE

Sudden difficulty in behaving openly and honestly toward each other could create a temporary wobble in your relationship. Because it's hard to directly confront any dissatisfactions you may be experiencing with each other, you may tend to express these in ways which are mutually confusing and misleading. Your longing for true love and harmony as a couple is so strong now, you're unwilling to do or say anything that threatens to spoil the dream. Instead you may resort to lies, evasiveness and deceptive actions which, if uncovered, lead to a sense of disillusionment and betrayal. Wouldn't it be better just to be totally truthful and straight?

February 2013

Mars Conjunct Moon

FIERY EMOTIONS

Because your responses to each other are much faster, stronger and rather less considered than usual, you have a tendency to easily upset each others' feelings. Patience and forbearance are in short supply, making you prone to snapping at each other over even quite trivial incidents you'd normally both take in your stride. But because your irritability dies down just as quickly as it flares up, any conflicts should be short-lived. Better still, make-up sex - while perhaps a little rougher than usual - is likely to be particularly passionate and exciting. In fact, if fiery emotional scenes turn you on, you'll enjoy yourselves at this time!

Venus Square Saturn

ASSESSING WHERE YOU STAND

You may be having a few reservations about this relationship right now, probably because you're focusing on each other's failings and less pleasing characteristics. You're more aware of what might be missing in your relationship as well as the good things it offers, while any responsibilities that it places on you are likely to be more apparent. Temporarily pulling back and having some solitude to consider the practical implications of being in a relationship with one another and whether you can, or wish to, handle them may not be a bad idea. Don't take your concerns too seriously though - in a day or two it could all seem totally different.

Venus Trine Uranus

SPICING THINGS UP

Something exciting is happening to you as a couple - your relationship is taking on a new sparkle and there's a powerful electric buzz between you today. If you've recently met, the sense of being head over heels in love is likely to be particularly strong now. If it's some time since you first got together, your sexual attraction to each other may be re-awakening, causing you to fall for each other all over again. Doing something spontaneous, playful and just a little bit crazy adds spice to your romance and quickens your libido. If you are both open and willing to experiment, you'll have some thrilling moments together now.

Venus Conjunct Mars

CUPID'S ARROWS

Cupid's arrows are flying! Warm amorous feelings are aroused between you, the physical attraction intensifies, and - unlike those occasions when one of you is somewhat keener than the other - you're both equally in the mood for love. This is a wonderful time for sex, which is likely to be particularly satisfying for both of you. The desire to please one another, to give as well as receive pleasure, makes lovemaking joyful and unusually memorable. Because you're loving each other body and soul now, if your relationship is not yet on a physical level, this is a great day to consummate your romance.

Venus Trine Venus

SINGING FROM THE SAME SONGSHEET

Romantically and aesthetically you're singing from the same songsheet now. Any differences in your personal tastes, styles and goals are set aside in the interest of cooperation, resulting in a marked absence of tensions and the likelihood that any activities you undertake together - especially shopping and socializing - will tend to go really well. Today you're discovering that when you interact with synergy, the sum total of your joint efforts is much greater than what you could ever accomplish by yourselves. When two become one and you're functioning as a united couple, there's very little you can't achieve.

Venus Square Neptune

UNREALISTIC EXPECTATIONS

A vague sense of dissatisfaction or confusion may arise between you now. One or both of you could feel your romantic dreams aren't being fulfilled in the way you had hoped for, or that your relationship is turning out rather differently to the way you thought it would. Check out your concerns and perceptions with one another because something you may be imagining about your relationship, or where your partner is coming from, is probably not quite true. Your mutual expectations are also likely to be a bit unrealistic and to have any real chance of being happy, you may need to lower them by a degree or two.

Venus Conjunct Moon

COZYING UP TOGETHER

A good day for hanging out together and enjoying the sense of comfort and security you get from simply being in each other's company. This is a strongly sentimental time when it's easier than usual to open up your hearts and freely share the feelings of love and tenderness you hold for each other without any sense of awkwardness. The emphasis now is on hugs, cuddles and just cozying up together, while sex and physical passion may temporarily take a back seat. If things have not been going so well or you have recently had an argument, you will be especially remorseful about that now and try to make amends.

Mars Conjunct Sun

TURNING UP THE HEAT

Passion and enthusiasm run high now, infusing your interactions with greater heat and vitality. As a couple, you have the urge to engage in demanding physical activities - like sports, games or vigorous lovemaking - which allow you to burn off your high levels of adrenaline. Certainly, you won't want to do anything passive, such as just sitting around, which could lead to a build-up of tension and frustrated energy whose only outlet is in violent arguments or fights. To avoid conflict, focus on channelling your combined physical resources into positive and purposeful activities which allow you to collaborate as a team.

March 2013

Mars Opposition Pluto

Peakdate: Mar 6th 2013; Period of Influence: Mar 5th 2013 - Mar 7th 2013

FIGHTING TO WIN

If the two of you have an imbalance of power between you (for instance one of you is always calling the shots or is in control of important decisions while the other normally acquiesces or allows it), a potentially violent ego conflict could erupt now. Even if you are well-balanced and usually harmonious as a couple, a spirit of strong-willed and possibly ruthless competition is likely to arise. Because the desire to defeat one another is very strong now, the gloves are off and you're both fighting to win whatever the cost. Think carefully about what's at stake in your relationship before you start tearing it apart.

Mars Trine Neptune

A TOUCH OF THE FANTASTIC

There is a touch of the magical in the atmosphere between you now and any spiritual ideals or hopes that you share, as well as your imaginations and fantasy lives, are activated by being together. Positively, this can mean you will want to do something as a couple to physically express what you usually only dream about. Because your artistic and creative energies are stimulated, you may want to paint, write or create music together. It's also a good time for the two of you to meditate or get involved in some kind of healing work. Not least, sex takes on a mystical or tantric quality with the potential for some mind blowing highs!

Venus Conjunct Sun

A BEAUTIFUL COUPLE

Your hearts open to one another and strong feelings of affection, warmth, and mutual appreciation make this a joyful time for the two of you. It's hard to hide the pleasure you take from being in each other's company - your happiness brims over for all to see. To others, you come across as a 'beautiful couple' who bring out the best in each other and at least for today that's true! Be sure to set aside some quality time to get out and about and do something a bit celebratory. It will help you to move closer together, and it's the perfect occasion for showing off your love to the rest of the world.

Mars Conjunct Mercury

VERBAL SPARRING

Are you ready for a frank discussion? You will not mince words with each other at this time. At best, you can both lay your cards on the table and state your opinions very directly. This gives you the chance to thrash out controversial issues without either of you being forced into a reluctant compromise. On the other hand, your blunt outspokenness increases the risk of heated arguments which have the potential to quickly get out of hand. A bit of lively verbal sparring is good fun now and has a positive effect on your relationship. Just be careful not to let it turn into an all-out slanging match that could leave lasting scars.

Mars Opposition Uranus

FIGHTING FOR YOUR FREEDOMS

Outbursts and fights can flare up now if either of you feels your partner is holding you back or in some way restricting your freedom. As a couple, you're currently engulfed by a dynamic and potentially explosive energy that urges you to experiment with different ways of being, even if these involve making a few disruptive changes. If this energy is blocked, there's a tendency now to behave erratically, impulsively and maybe recklessly towards each other without considering the likely consequences. Asserting your rights to personal space is obviously important, but don't let it compromise your security and love.

Venus Opposition Pluto

ROMANTIC CONTROL DRAMAS

Forces within both of you which sabotage the closeness you could be experiencing come to the fore. Issues of power and control arise between you and you may touch upon some hidden problems which you have tried to ignore. If one or the other of you feels dominated or controlled, unloved or unappreciated - all of this may come to the surface at this time. Any unspoken 'bargains' you have made with each other, which disempower one or both of you in order to please the other, are likely to be up for change. Unreasonable jealousies or fears of loss could also emerge, as passions and deep feelings of all kinds gain in intensity now.

Venus Trine Neptune

WHEN TWO HEARTS BECOME ONE

The emotional and energy boundaries between the two of you soften, enabling you to merge more easily and giving you a much stronger sense of at-oneness. This is an intensely romantic interlude, a time for gazing at the stars, opening your hearts and gently sharing the tender feelings you hold for each other. A new sense of mutual understanding, forgiveness and compassion means any recent hurts or resentments are quickly healed and forgotten. Because your soul connection is very powerful today, your lovemaking takes on a mystical or quasi-spiritual quality, allowing you to reach new levels of sexual bliss!

Venus Conjunct Mercury

HARMONIOUS COMMUNICATIONS

If there's anything of a difficult nature you need to talk through together, this is an ideal day to tackle it. Issues which might normally provoke an argument can be discussed now in a light-hearted and humorous way that keeps the peace while furthering a harmonious resolution. Because both of you are in the mood for compromise and are able to sugar your words with a note of affection, there's very little that can't be laughed off or easily settled, with just a little bit of give and take. However strong your grievances, you realize that, at the end of the day, none of them are worth risking your relationship for.

Venus Opposition Uranus

FEEL THE BUZZ!

It feels like there's a current of electricity buzzing between you today and your sense of mutual excitement is strong. You're looking for new kicks now, if necessary by stirring things up a bit. One or both of you are in a flirtatious mood and may enjoy gently teasing the other by making eyes at somebody else. Sexually, this can be a big turn-on, firing up your desire for each other and adding some spice to your lovemaking. Be careful, however, not to go too far and end up causing each other to feel jealous and insecure. If you're set on excitement at any cost, you'll provoke a fight or even a temporary break-up.

Mars Conjunct Jupiter

SHARED ADVENTURES

This is an adventurous period in your relationship when you feel like taking a few chances and you sense that luck is on your side. When you're together you seem to feel physically stronger, more confident, and more capable of taking on challenges that require energy and pluck. Shared journeys, vacations and outdoor pursuits like hiking or camping can be lots of fun just now.

They also serve to strengthen the bond between you, giving you the sense there's little you can't accomplish as a team. Provided, of course, you avoid unwise risks, it's an excellent time for striking out on any kind of joint enterprise.

April 2013

Venus Conjunct Jupiter

Peakdate: Apr 2nd 2013; Period of Influence: Apr 2nd 2013 - Apr 3rd 2013

REJOICING IN YOUR LOVE

This is a time for gift-giving or buying something beautiful that the two of you will share as a symbol of your romance. Optimism, generosity and big heartedness set the tone now as you count the blessings your relationship has brought you and rejoice unashamedly in your love. Your warm feelings are infectious and other people will want to be around you, so it's a good time for getting together with friends and having a little celebration. Bear in mind, however, that you're likely to bring out in each other any inclinations toward extravagance and excess, so be careful not to spend more money than you can sensibly afford.

Venus Opposition Venus

Peakdate: Apr 11th 2013; Period of Influence: Apr 10th 2013 - Apr 12th 2013

COMPROMISING POSITIONS

Because your mutual longing for harmony and unity is so strong now, there's a tendency to back down or give way on things that actually mean a lot to you rather than risk a disagreement or row. In trying to please each other, be careful not to yield to the other person's tastes and preferences at the expense of your own desires. By compromising on your position against your true wishes, you're storing up mutual regrets and grievances likely to cause problems further down the line. Okay, so perhaps today will pass smoothly. But if neither of you end up with what you really want, what have you actually achieved?

Mars Opposition Venus

Peakdate: Apr 14th 2013; Period of Influence: Apr 14th 2013 - Apr 15th 2013

BALANCING YOUR SEXUAL DESIRES

Because the physical attraction between you is at a peak, you arouse strong, passionate feelings in one another now. Lovemaking is definitely on the agenda, but for it to be equally fulfilling for both of you, it's important that you respect each other's desires. If one of you is more interested in self gratification than in relating sensitively and lovingly, the other could end up with the impression they are being used. Sex without sufficient emotional content could lead to conflict at this time. To avoid this, make a point of balancing your sexual preferences against those of your partner through a bit of give and take.

Venus Conjunct Saturn

Peakdate: Apr 17th 2013; Period of Influence: Apr 17th 2013 - Apr 18th 2013

SEEING EACH OTHER MORE REALISTICALLY

Right now you may be discovering one or two things you don't much like about one another, most probably concerning differing tastes, values and ways of relating emotionally to each other. If you're still at the starry-eyed stage of your romance, this may come as something of a shock. In any case it's likely to cast a cool chill on your love life and cause you to question the long-term viability of your relationship. The good news, however, is that this is only a short-lived interlude and shouldn't be taken too seriously. It's just part of seeing each other more realistically as your relationship slowly develops and matures.

Mars Conjunct Saturn

Peakdate: Apr 24th 2013; Period of Influence: Apr 23rd 2013 - Apr 26th 2013

OVERCOMING FRUSTRATING PROBLEMS

You will have an opportunity now to experience how the two of you handle trouble, inconvenience, or frustration. Problems and difficult tasks you face individually or as a couple give you the chance to work hard together at finding a practical solution. Be careful, however, of the tendency to blame, or turn on, each other if things don't go smoothly and take much longer than you expected. Perhaps without intending to be, you can be rather overly tough with each other and skirmishes can erupt over seemingly trivial issues. Seeing the absurdity of your own reactions, and perhaps taking a little space can help.

May 2013

Venus Square Mars

Peakdate: May 5th 2013; Period of Influence: May 4th 2013 - May 6th 2013

SEXUAL TENSIONS

Tensions in the sexual aspect of your relationship - due perhaps to incompatible desires or love styles - may cause some friction now. Most likely, differences in your libido levels mean that one of you is more ready for sex today. Hugs and cuddles may be more important to one person, while the other is less interested in foreplay and just wants to get on with the main event. Some subtle awkwardness seems to be creeping into your relationship and sexually or romantically something probably just isn't clicking right. One or both of you may be ignoring the other's love cues - if so, try a little more give and take.

Venus Trine Pluto

Peakdate: May 5th 2013; Period of Influence: May 5th 2013 - May 6th 2013

INTENSIFYING YOUR LOVE

Your love for each other takes on a new depth and intensity. There is a feeling of magical or 'fated' attraction between you, giving you the sense you were destined to be together and adding a transcendental dimension to your relationship that lifts it above the mundane. Because you're loving each other body and soul now, your sex life is especially powerful and potentially transformative. If you are willing to open fully to each other and share your insecurities alongside of your desires and longings, mutual healing can take place through deep contact and mutual acceptance. Superficiality is not on the agenda now.

Venus Opposition Neptune

Peakdate: May 8th 2013; Period of Influence: May 8th 2013 - May 9th 2013

LOVE FANTASIES

You're probably not seeing each other very realistically just now - nor do you particularly want to. Erotic imagination, fantasy, and your ideals about love color your perceptions of one another and your relationship. If, however, your partner fails to live up to your dreams or shows no interest in them, you may well be feeling disenchanted. Facing up to the shortfall between your romantic expectations and what the other person is able and ready to offer you is the challenge you face today. Sharing your soul's longings and any sense of disappointment either of you may be experiencing can help to clear the air.

Venus Square Moon

Peakdate: May 9th 2013; Period of Influence: May 8th 2013 - May 10th 2013

SMOTHER LOVE

The need for closeness and emotional reassurance may be somewhat stronger in one of you than in the other, which might create some minor tensions in your relationship. Be particularly careful of a tendency towards smother love or over-protectiveness, which could give rise to a sense of emotional suffocation. Any inclination towards possessiveness by either of you may be magnified during this period, and if one of you is prone to 'mothering' the other, this too may cause trouble at this time. To avoid problems, maybe try backing off a little in the short term and allowing each other a bit more emotional space.

Jupiter Square Sun

Peakdate: May 9th 2013; Period of Influence: May 5th 2013 - May 14th 2013

A BIT OF SWANK

There's a tendency now for the two of you to stretch yourselves beyond your means. An urge to 'show off' a bit as a couple can lead you to splurge money on things that will make you look good and create a big impression, but which you can't really afford. Beware of an exaggerated sense of pride and mutual entitlement and think carefully before splashing out on swanky stuff simply because you believe you deserve the best. Now isn't the time to go out on a limb on joint spending sprees. Curb tendencies toward excessiveness, as you are prone to encourage each other to use up savings, or get yourselves into debt.

Venus Trine Uranus

SPICING THINGS UP

Something exciting is happening to you as a couple - your relationship is taking on a new sparkle and there's a powerful electric buzz between you today. If you've recently met, the sense of being head over heels in love is likely to be particularly strong now. If it's some time since you first got together, your sexual attraction to each other may be re-awakening, causing you to fall for each other all over again. Doing something spontaneous, playful and just a little bit crazy adds spice to your romance and quickens your libido. If you are both open and willing to experiment, you'll have some thrilling moments together now.

GOING FOR A KNOCKOUT

This can be a period of potentially explosive tension between the two of you. Ego and competitive energies run high, making it hard for you to cooperate on shared activities and more prone to quarrelling and fighting. Right now you both want to win by any means - if necessary by going for a 'knockout'. Sexually too, there can be a tendency to ride roughshod over your partner's desires and focus only on self-gratification. Even if you suppress the urge to fight each other, there may be anger over frustrating outside circumstances. Be wary of goading each other into rash and dangerous actions in the attempt to force an outcome.

A FORMIDABLE TEAM

In a process of mutual empowerment, you're helping each other to access hidden reserves of energy, will and endurance that neither one of you knew you possessed. Depending on how you decide to direct these as a couple, you can have a profound sexual or creative experience at this time. If you share any work or projects, you can be extraordinarily productive. A stubborn refusal to give up on any challenges you face together means you're ready and able to take on whatever life throws at you without flinching, vanquish the opposition, and come out firmly on top. Right now, you make a formidable team!

CHILLING OUT TOGETHER

Feelings of mutual affection, coupled with a strong desire to kick back and have fun, make this an excellent time for just chilling out together and basking in the warmth of your love. Why not take a short break from your day to day chores and resolve to do something a bit self-indulgent that gives the two of you pleasure? No need to fret if you each want something different. It gives you the chance to explore your mutual tastes and preferences, find out a little more about each other, and practice the art of give and take. Learning to compromise is what all relationships - this one included - is ultimately about.

CONFUSING ACTIONS

It may be hard now for the two of you to understand where each other are really coming from. Quite likely, one or both of you are experiencing a vague sense of dissatisfaction with your relationship but are uncertain or unclear about what's actually wrong and what actions you need to take. Because confronting each other directly is difficult, instead of bringing your feelings of discontentment out into the open, you're likely to express them in roundabout ways which seem strange and confusing to your partner. To avoid weakening your relationship, make a point of trying to be as open and honest as possible.

LOVE'S SWEET PASSION

Because sexually you're both equally keen to satisfy each other, giving preference to the other's needs and desires over and above your own, this should be an especially pleasurable time for the two of you. Here we're talking about sex of a uniquely romantic kind where lust and physical passion are softened by feelings of sweetness, tenderness and heartfelt concern for the other person's happiness. To get the most out of today and turn your lovemaking into a truly memorable occasion, be sure to set the scene carefully. Candles, flowers and some tranquil, sensuous background music should really put you in the mood.

DESTRUCTIVE PASSIONS

Dynamics in your relationship that have been operating beneath the surface begin to emerge, as feelings are intensified and brought up to the surface. Unspoken insecurities, maybe originating from painful past love experiences, may make themselves felt in the form of unreasonable jealousies and attempts at mutual control. Your challenge as a couple is to confront and overcome these destructive passions and behaviors which have the potential to seriously damage your relationship. Start dealing with them now, before they develop into major power struggles, to avoid bigger problems in the future.

SINGING FROM THE SAME SONGSHEET

Romantically and aesthetically you're singing from the same songsheet now. Any differences in your personal tastes, styles and goals are set aside in the interest of cooperation, resulting in a marked absence of tensions and the likelihood that any activities you undertake together - especially shopping and socializing - will tend to go really well. Today you're discovering that when you interact with synergy, the sum total of your joint efforts is much greater than what you could ever accomplish by yourselves. When two become one and you're functioning as a united couple, there's very little you can't achieve.

EMOTIONAL VOLATILITY

Impatience, irritability and hot fiery feelings fly between you now, causing you to flare up at each other over a seemingly minor provocation. Beware of indulging this emotional volatility. Although relatively short-lived, it can lead to thoughtless words and actions you later regret but are unable to take back. To prevent subsequent embarrassment, avoid childish quarrelling and realize your anger is probably not due to the reason you think it is. The most likely cause is a build-up of underlying tensions - of which the current incident is just the 'last straw' - especially if either of you feel you have recently been 'giving' too much.

Your nesting instincts are coming to the fore now as your attention turns to the possibility of finding a new home and/or putting down some kind of roots together. Getting acquainted with each others' families is an important part of setting your relationship on a more permanent footing - but also a tense time with the potential to badly rock the boat. To ensure things go smoothly, act now while the stars are on your side and maybe organize a get-together with one or other set of relatives. A step too far? Then just spend the time talking to each other about your respective family members and sharing a photo or two.

STRIKING OUT TOGETHER

Being with each other now inspires you both to be more creative, more adventurous, and more willing to take a few risks. You will want to be doing something vigorous, active and challenging when you are together, not just talking or "hanging out". Because your judgment is sound and your timing is good, whatever ventures the two of you strike out on together now should eventually prove successful - even if you are going out on a limb. It's also a good time to seek the support of someone who may be in a position to assist you in your shared goals. Others are very willing to help you, all you have to do is reach out and make contact.

WHO'S IN THE DRIVER'S SEAT?

Issues of dominion, power, and success arise between the two of you, with serious consequences for the outcome of your relationship. How compatible are your individual long-range goals? Whose ambitions in life matter more and should be given greater priority? Who has the strongest willpower - and who is willing to make more personal sacrifices? Ultimately, which one of you is in the driver's seat in this relationship? These and similar questions need to be answered now, and unless you're able to resolve them in a spirit of cooperation, you're likely to have a major control struggle on your hands.

Whatever else may be going on in your lives, your love is all you need to see you through hardships or challenges. Hold on at all times to the feelings of warmth and positivity you experience when you're together, and you will continue to draw strength from each other even when you're apart. Good fortune and happiness color this entire period for the two of you - provided you stick together as a couple.

KEEPING THE PEACE

However irritated you may be feeling with each other, rather than risk an argument, the tendency is to sweep your grievances under the carpet today. Certainly, this isn't a good time to thrash out any major issues in your relationship since your fear of saying the 'wrong thing' and upsetting each other is likely to interfere with an open and honest exchange of views. Instead, you may find yourselves expressing your mutual annoyances in the form of jokes, innuendos and teasing comments. Although sweetened with humor, these may actually contain quite a bit of truth about your true feelings when you read between the lines!

If your relationship has gotten into a bit of a rut, it could be that subconsciously you will be trying to re-invigorate it in any way you can, maybe by one or both of you demanding more freedom. You could feel the need to put a little more space between you by allowing each other more 'me' time. One or the other of you might even indulge in a brief flirtation with somebody else. Whatever happens don't read too much into it. Provided your romance is solidly based, this period of short-lived instability can't hurt it.

MAKING WHOOPEE

This could be one of those days when the urge to have fun together is so powerful, you're liable to throw caution to the wind. What's happening now is that you're tending to bring out in each other any tendencies toward excessive spending, partying, or consuming without due consideration of the likely consequences. The end result is that when you're together you're inclined to foolishly overdo things or splurge on something you can't really afford. Too much 'making whoopee' at the expense of your much needed resources is a sure recipe for later feelings of regret and, quite likely, mutual blame.

Why not raise a glass or two of something special to toast the happiness you have found in each other? This is a great day for partying - whether on your own or in the company of a few close friends. It's also a good time for clearing up any minor grievances, so if you have been neglecting each other or have some hurt feelings between you, this can be a day to bring the love back into your relationship and finally kiss and make up.

INCOMPATIBLE DESIRES

Disagreements arise now over personal tastes and styles, what each of you considers desirable or beautiful, and how you show love or want to be loved. This is unlikely to be a direct confrontation, but more of a realization that you need to be doing things somewhat differently in order to please one another and satisfy each other's desires. Be careful, however, that in the spirit of harmony, you don't make too many personal concessions you're unable to sustain. Going against your true inclinations won't work in the long run. Better to accept and respect the contrasts between you than try to be someone you're not.

Through the law of 'like attracts like', the strong sense of emotional abundance prevailing between you attracts fortunate events that further add to your happiness and wellbeing. If the two of you have been struggling with an ongoing problem, you may find that assistance is readily at hand. Expect gifts and favors around now from your families, friends or people you have helped out in the past. If you're thinking of moving in together, or upgrading your home, a few lucky breaks should present themselves and things should fall easily into place.

This is an intensely romantic interlude, a time for gazing at the stars, opening your hearts and gently sharing the tender feelings you hold for each other. A new sense of mutual understanding, forgiveness and compassion means any recent hurts or resentments are quickly healed and forgotten. Because your soul connection is very powerful today, your lovemaking takes on a mystical or quasi-spiritual quality, allowing you to reach new levels of sexual bliss!

EGO CONFLICTS

Because your individual ego desires are greatly intensified, impatience and anger flare up quite readily between you at this time. If one of you makes the other wait or insists on doing something the other does not want to do, expect trouble. Even if you usually compromise just to please your partner, you're likely to protest vigorously now. If yours is a tempestuous relationship at the best of times, you could end up battling ferociously. To avoid violent conflicts, butt out of each other's business and try giving one another a wide berth for a couple of days. By then the storm is likely to have calmed and it should all be smooth sailing again.

ASSESSING WHERE YOU STAND

You may be having a few reservations about this relationship right now, probably because you're focusing on each other's failings and less pleasing characteristics. You're more aware of what might be missing in your relationship as well as the good things it offers, while any responsibilities that it places on you are likely to be more apparent. Temporarily pulling back and having some solitude to consider the practical implications of being in a relationship with one another and whether you can, or wish to, handle them may not be a bad idea. Don't take your concerns too seriously though - in a day or two it could all seem totally different.

WORDS OF LOVE

Declaring your love for each other isn't always easy - embarrassment, tongue-tiedness or worries about the likely response often get in the way. But those three little words 'I love you' can help so much towards smoothing out any frictions you may be experiencing in your relationship, that they're worth their weight in gold. Today's cosmic forecast offers the chance to express your affection for each other straight from the heart and without any kind of hang-ups. So why not send a romantic text message or email - or better still pen a shamelessly sentimental, old-fashioned love letter? It's likely to be warmly received.

ACTING IN UNISON

Because energy-wise you're acting in unison, right now you make a highly dynamic and successful team. In the pursuit of your mutual ambitions you tend to encourage and reinforce one another rather than fight or get in each other's way, and there's a willingness to put your individual ego desires to one side in the interests of your joint success. This makes it an excellent time for beginning shared projects that call for hard work and confidence, while any kind of sport or physical activity you enjoy together - including sex - is also favored now. BEATING EACH OTHER UP

To reduce the risk of violent fights, beware of dominating attitudes and any attempt to force your desires onto your partner against their will. There's a tendency now for you to beat each other up over relatively minor control dramas which take on a magnitude out of all proportion to their true importance because they're simply the 'last straw that broke the camel's back'. If there is any underlying rivalry, hidden anger or resentment toward one another which you have been suppressing, it will surface now - and fierce battles, in which the possibility of physical aggression can't be ruled out, are likely to erupt.

In fact, the likelihood is that you will find each other irresistible and if you haven't yet slept together, this is the perfect time to do so. If you're already lovers, be sure to use this happy influence to explore and deepen your physical relationship. Social gatherings and parties will be delightful too, if you attend together. If the merriment factor in your relationship is strong, this should be an exuberantly happy day for the both of you. If it's not, it could be a sign that something isn't quite working or that, as a couple, you need to loosen up more. Put serious matters on the back burner and try to arrange your schedules to allow yourselves plenty of time to play, relax and indulge in a bit of unabashed hedonism. Dress up and party, splash out on a posh meal, or go shopping together for something outrageously extravagant. Let the good times roll!

Any shared vigorous activity - from passionate lovemaking to a lively game of tennis - will be good for your relationship, helping you to feel emotionally stronger and more united as a couple. Because your mutual responses are more honest and positive now, it's easier to open up to each other about your true love needs and feelings. At the same time, if there are any negative emotions you have been holding back due to fear or embarrassment, this is an excellent chance to harmoniously clear the air.

ALL TALKED OUT

Problems with mental overload, or being overwhelmed by excessive conversational input, can create static in your relationship at this time. Unusually, it's too much talking, rather than not enough, that lies at the root of any communication difficulties occurring between you now. Long-winded, rambling discussions about your differing beliefs and ideas, and a tendency to go round in circles without reaching definite conclusions cause confusion and frustration. Slow down a bit and focus more on details, while trying harder to really listen to each other rather than just getting your own thoughts across.

Big changes are occurring as you discover new possibilities in your relationship that keep the two of you on your toes. Your interaction is becoming more allowing and 'open' during this period in that one or both of you are less clingy, possessive or demanding, and more willing to offer the other more personal space. As a couple you're more confident of being able to handle this new kind of freedom without getting jealous or compromising your mutual commitment. Bear in mind, though, that if you spend too much time apart or engage in risky flirtations with other people, you're taking a huge gamble with your love!

LOVE OR LUST?

No question, lovemaking is strongly on the agenda today, but some differences in your respective needs could leave one or both of you feeling frustrated. For one of you, tenderness and emotional sharing is likely to be rather more important than the physical act. The other of you may just be looking for a 'quickie' and feeling a lot more detached. Learning how to balance the satisfaction of your own desires versus pleasing your partner is the main issue here. Reaching a compromise where you get what you want today, while your partner gets what they want tomorrow, is the obvious solution.

HEATED ARGUMENTS

You are more prone to rash outbursts and sharp words towards one another during these few days. Suddenly it's hard for the two of you to agree on even the most trivial of issues without lashing out at each other verbally and, before you know it, what starts as a little petty bickering has built up into a big fight. Tactfulness and mutual consideration can go a long way towards limiting the likely damage. But if, despite everything, you just can't seem to help having a heated argument, at least put it to good use by debating something of real importance, rather than wasting it on matters of no consequence.

Just now you will operate best in an atmosphere of total mutual freedom. If either of you feels held back, hemmed in or bossed around by the other person, they may react with uncharacteristically explosive anger which - although quite transient - has the potential to drastically disrupt your relationship. The desire to break free from stifling routines and gain personal space is so strong now, it will make itself felt regardless of the damage it is likely to inflict.

Check out your concerns and perceptions with one another because something you may be imagining about your relationship, or where your partner is coming from, is probably not quite true. Your mutual expectations are also likely to be a bit unrealistic and to have any real chance of being happy, you may need to lower them by a degree or two.

An opportunity may crop up to demonstrate loyalty, dependability, and that you want to be there for one another in foul weather as well as fair. Although it may not be a particularly romantic or exciting time for the two of you, you're learning a lot about the importance of love in action. By supporting each other in tangible, down-to-earth ways, you're building the kind of trust that can't easily be broken and at a deep level you're growing closer, day by day.

All-consuming feelings of passionate attraction can alternate with obsessive jealousies and resentments seemingly without foundation. If you find yourself reacting unusually strongly to your partner, understand that it's probably much more than what's happening in the present that's likely to be involved. SEXUAL CONFLICTS

As a couple, your libidos could be slightly out of sync for the moment. For example, one of you may be feeling more in the mood for sex than the other, or appear to be more interested in self-gratification than in relating tenderly and lovingly. If either of you ends up feeling abused or frustrated, this can lead to conflict both in and out of the bedroom. Unfulfilled sexual or emotional desires are likely to express themselves now in the form of irritability and anger that spill over into your everyday interactions. When you're making love, try showing each other a little more sensitivity to keep your relationship sweet.

A TOUCH OF THE FANTASTIC

There is a touch of the magical in the atmosphere between you now and any spiritual ideals or hopes that you share, as well as your imaginations and fantasy lives, are activated by being together. Positively, this can mean you will want to do something as a couple to physically express what you usually only dream about. Because your artistic and creative energies are stimulated, you may want to paint, write or create music together. It's also a good time for the two of you to meditate or get involved in some kind of healing work. Not least, sex takes on a mystical or tantric quality with the potential for some mind blowing highs!

PUSHING YOUR LUCK TOO FAR

A strong sense of romantic exuberance - and that fortune is smiling on you as a couple - gives you the belief that everything you touch together can't fail to turn to gold. Certainly, it's true that today you have a tendency to be lucky together. Because your joint confidence is high and you're giving off powerfully positive vibes in each other's company, you're likely to attract good things towards the two of you in return. The risk, however, is that you may encourage each other to trust excessively in luck and take foolish risks you can't afford. Enjoy yourselves, but be wary of overspending and throwing caution to the wind.

WHICH WAY ARE YOU HEADED?

Adjustments regarding your mutual aspirations, your hopes for the future, or your sense of where this relationship is headed are likely to be called for now. A significant difference in your philosophies or your dreams may emerge, which gives you second thoughts about going forward together. One or both of you may be feeling discontented with some kind of limitation in your relationship and be looking to make a major move. If your paths are currently diverging, better to face facts now. Whatever you do, don't try to hold each other back, or push your partner into a direction they don't really want to take.

ANGRY UNDERCURRENTS

An undercurrent of seething, hard-to-express rage threatens to create a sour note in your relationship for a short while. Perhaps one or both of you are feeling deeply irritated by the other, but because for some reason you are unable to openly express your anger, it tends to manifest as surly moods and sexual frigidity. Or, as a couple, you may be faced with infuriating delays and setbacks which - despite your best efforts - you can do absolutely nothing about and end up taking out your frustrations on each other. Patience and a willingness to find the humor in the situation can help to dispel the tension at this time.

FRANK DISCUSSIONS

Stimulating discussion and debate provide a valuable opportunity to reach important agreements now. Because you're both able to state your opinions very frankly and directly, it's a chance to thrash through controversial matters without fudging the issue or either of you being forced into an unwilling compromise. Better still, because the mental energy between you is harmonious, despite your mutual outspokenness there's only a minimal risk of upsetting each other or having a big argument. Problem solving of all kinds is favorable now - this is a good time for the two of you to put your heads together and make some plans.

LOVE'S SWEET PASSION

Because sexually you're both equally keen to satisfy each other, giving preference to the other's needs and desires over and above your own, this should be an especially pleasurable time for the two of you. Here we're talking about sex of a uniquely romantic kind where lust and physical passion are softened by feelings of sweetness, tenderness and heartfelt concern for the other person's happiness. To get the most out of today and turn your lovemaking into a truly memorable occasion, be sure to set the scene carefully. Candles, flowers and some tranquil, sensuous background music should really put you in the mood.

RENEWING YOUR LOVE

Joyful memories of your first meeting, and your first realization that you wanted to be together make this a great day for renewing your love. See this day, if you like, as your own personal Valentine's day - an opportunity to celebrate your romance and thank the universe for bringing you into each others' lives. No matter how long you have known each other, it's a time for re-committing to your relationship and beginning over again. If ever you were going to feel truly happy, it has to be now. So if for some reason you don't feel romantic or affectionate, the chances that love will ever truly flourish between you may not be very good.

MEET THE FAMILY!

Your nesting instincts are coming to the fore now as your attention turns to the possibility of finding a new home and/or putting down some kind of roots together. Getting acquainted with each others' families is an important part of setting your relationship on a more permanent footing - but also a tense time with the potential to badly rock the boat. To ensure things go smoothly, act now while the stars are on your side and maybe organize a get-together with one or other set of relatives. A step too far? Then just spend the time talking to each other about your respective family members and sharing a photo or two.

A TOUCH OF FROST

The two of you may cool toward one another, withdraw, or be temporarily separated at this time. Even if you are together, affection and intimacy may be lacking. Avoid criticizing or judging one another too harshly right now. Even if there are real problems or difficulties between you, you are probably seeing the worst in each other and focusing only on what you don't like, rather than all the good things you have going between you. Fortunately these frosty feelings are likely to be quite short-lived if your relationship is essentially sound. So don't draw any definitive conclusions or do or say anything you'll later regret.

You have a strengthening effect on one another's health and wellbeing now, and provided you act in unison, your confidence and energy levels are high. Encouraging each other to improve your fitness, perhaps by embarking on a shared exercise routine, can pay off in the form of increased stamina and positivity. Challenging outdoor activities that call for joint pluck and coordinated effort are particularly good for building your team spirit. This is an adventuresome time in your relationship - a time for stretching yourselves a little physically and discovering just how much you can do when you're together.

Why not raise a glass or two of something special to toast the happiness you have found in each other? This is a great day for partying - whether on your own or in the company of a few close friends. It's also a good time for clearing up any minor grievances, so if you have been neglecting each other or have some hurt feelings between you, this can be a day to bring the love back into your relationship and finally kiss and make up.

SEXUAL TENSIONS

Tensions in the sexual aspect of your relationship - due perhaps to incompatible desires or love styles - may cause some friction now. Most likely, differences in your libido levels mean that one of you is more ready for sex today. Hugs and cuddles may be more important to one person, while the other is less interested in foreplay and just wants to get on with the main event. Some subtle awkwardness seems to be creeping into your relationship and sexually or romantically something probably just isn't clicking right. One or both of you may be ignoring the other's love cues - if so, try a little more give and take.

SOUL CONNECTIONS

The ordinary and the mundane can't satisfy you today - over and above the physical aspect of sex, what you're seeking is a beautiful romantic experience and a true sense of soul connection. The feeling between you now is tender, sweet and sentimental, not particularly passionate or earthy, with a genuine desire to make each other happy. Today, more than at any other time, you want everything to be perfect between you and to know that your relationship realizes all of your hopes and dreams. Make a point of gently sharing your heart's secret wishes - especially if, for some reason, one of you feels slightly let down or unfulfilled.

COMPETITIVE SPARRING

Right now you're more like sparring partners, opponents - maybe even enemies - rather than friends or lovers. The urge to compete and win is very strong in the atmosphere between you, and if either of you are turned on by a rousing fight then this is likely to be the day for it. If you are usually gentle and agreeable with each other, you will both have a lot more energy, but perhaps also a lot more aggravation, than is usually the case. Even if you suppress the fighting urge, irritating "accidents" may occur around you, especially if you try to hurry or force things or encourage each other into rash and dangerous actions.

SMOTHER LOVE

The need for closeness and emotional reassurance may be somewhat stronger in one of you than in the other, which might create some minor tensions in your relationship. Be particularly careful of a tendency towards smother love or over-protectiveness, which could give rise to a sense of emotional suffocation. Any inclination towards possessiveness by either of you may be magnified during this period, and if one of you is prone to 'mothering' the other, this too may cause trouble at this time. To avoid problems, maybe try backing off a little in the short term and allowing each other a bit more emotional space.

WORDS OF LOVE

Declaring your love for each other isn't always easy - embarrassment, tongue-tiedness or worries about the likely response often get in the way. But those three little words 'I love you' can help so much towards smoothing out any frictions you may be experiencing in your relationship, that they're worth their weight in gold. Today's cosmic forecast offers the chance to express your affection for each other straight from the heart and without any kind of hang-ups. So why not send a romantic text message or email - or better still pen a shamelessly sentimental, old-fashioned love letter? It's likely to be warmly received.

This is a fortunate and prosperous period in your relationship when whatever you need as a couple just seems to land in your laps. Expecting something wonderful to happen, being generous toward one another, and going with that intuitive hunch or inkling the two of you have been having is all that's needed to help everything fall neatly into place. A TEMPORARY WOBBLE

Sudden difficulty in behaving openly and honestly toward each other could create a temporary wobble in your relationship. Because it's hard to directly confront any dissatisfactions you may be experiencing with each other, you may tend to express these in ways which are mutually confusing and misleading. Your longing for true love and harmony as a couple is so strong now, you're unwilling to do or say anything that threatens to spoil the dream. Instead you may resort to lies, evasiveness and deceptive actions which, if uncovered, lead to a sense of disillusionment and betrayal. Wouldn't it be better just to be totally truthful and straight?

Passion and heat color your interactions during this period, making both of you much quicker to anger and more prone to getting on each others' nerves. An underlying feeling of irritability, and maybe also a subtle sense of competitiveness, can suddenly erupt in the form of childish quarrelling over even quite minor incidents you'd normally both take in your stride. Fortunately, these emotional upsets are unlikely to be very long-lived, intense or serious. Because they also have the effect of stimulating your sexual desire for each other, when you kiss and make-up your lovemaking should be particularly exciting.

How easy is it for the two of you to simply have fun and let your hair down together? If the merriment factor in your relationship is strong, this should be an exuberantly happy day for the both of you. If it's not, it could be a sign that something isn't quite working or that, as a couple, you need to loosen up more. Put serious matters on the back burner and try to arrange your schedules to allow yourselves plenty of time to play, relax and indulge in a bit of unabashed hedonism. Dress up and party, splash out on a posh meal, or go shopping together for something outrageously extravagant. Let the good times roll!

If there's anything of a practical and necessary - but perhaps rather tedious - nature that needs to be done, this is a time when you will buckle down, focus, and achieve something very worthwhile as a couple. Because energy-wise you're hitting the same slow-and-steady keynote, you're discovering that by pacing yourselves and instilling each other with the necessary discipline and patience, you can really enjoy working with each other now while getting excellent results.

Why not take a short break from your day to day chores and resolve to do something a bit self-indulgent that gives the two of you pleasure? No need to fret if you each want something different. It gives you the chance to explore your mutual tastes and preferences, find out a little more about each other, and practice the art of give and take. An opportunity may crop up to demonstrate loyalty, dependability, and that you want to be there for one another in foul weather as well as fair. Although it may not be a particularly romantic or exciting time for the two of you, you're learning a lot about the importance of love in action. KEEPING THE PEACE

However irritated you may be feeling with each other, rather than risk an argument, the tendency is to sweep your grievances under the carpet today. Certainly, this isn't a good time to thrash out any major issues in your relationship since your fear of saying the 'wrong thing' and upsetting each other is likely to interfere with an open and honest exchange of views. Instead, you may find yourselves expressing your mutual annoyances in the form of jokes, innuendos and teasing comments. Although sweetened with humor, these may actually contain quite a bit of truth about your true feelings when you read between the lines!

If your relationship has gotten into a bit of a rut, it could be that subconsciously you will be trying to re-invigorate it in any way you can, maybe by one or both of you demanding more freedom. You could feel the need to put a little more space between you by allowing each other more 'me' time. One or the other of you might even indulge in a brief flirtation with somebody else. Whatever happens don't read too much into it. Provided your romance is solidly based, this period of short-lived instability can't hurt it.

COMPETITIVE RIVALRIES

Your individual desires are pulling you in different directions for the moment and there's a tendency for each of you to try to prove your way is the right way and that the other person is wrong. To avoid provoking one another with the risk of angry fights and arguments, it might be best to butt out of each other's business for the time being and give each other a wide berth. On the other hand, if you can set aside any feelings of competitiveness and rivalry and avoid aggravating each other, you should be able to work vigorously to accomplish some joint task. It all depends on how good you are at functioning as a team.

MAKING WHOOPEE

This could be one of those days when the urge to have fun together is so powerful, you're liable to throw caution to the wind. What's happening now is that you're tending to bring out in each other any tendencies toward excessive spending, partying, or consuming without due consideration of the likely consequences. The end result is that when you're together you're inclined to foolishly overdo things or splurge on something you can't really afford. Too much 'making whoopee' at the expense of your much needed resources is a sure recipe for later feelings of regret and, quite likely, mutual blame.

What's likely to be happening is that feelings of mutual resentment or anger which one or both of you have been suppressing are suddenly coming to the surface, with the latest disagreement simply being the 'final straw'. Beware of forcing issues or willfully trying to get your own way at your partner's expense, for you will encounter furious opposition. Bear in mind, it only takes one of you to be aware of what's going on and be ready to step back and let go to defuse a potentially violent conflict. Forewarned is forearmed!

This is unlikely to be a direct confrontation, but more of a realization that you need to be doing things somewhat differently in order to please one another and satisfy each other's desires. Be careful, however, that in the spirit of harmony, you don't make too many personal concessions you're unable to sustain. Going against your true inclinations won't work in the long run.
